Don't Neglect Colds
Five-Day Week in Politics
No One Born Too Soon
The Adaptable British

By ARTHUR BRISHANE
DR. L. STIEGLITZ of New York, a prominent physician and scientist, found an elderly patient for whom a cold. The rebuke could be useful to all men past middle age. "Nothing could be more dangerous," said Dr. Stieglitz. "When a man neglects a cold at 50 or older, he deliberately endangers his life. A cold in itself may be easily neglected, but it runs into pneumonia."

Mr. Whitney, who died recently, had a cold and went about for three days neglecting it, finally going to bed. Pneumonia developed and he died in 24 hours. He hadn't a chance. If he had gone to bed at the first signs of a cold, he would probably be alive and well today.

Men around 60 are dull beings, mostly, but some of them do useful work and are important to their families. They should heed Dr. Stieglitz' warning.

Former Governor Alfred E. Smith, enthusiastically welcomed in New England, his stronghold in the 1928 election, attacks President Hoover for neglecting the employment problem. That is politics, and temporary.

The former governor urgently demands a five-day week and is loudly cheered. That is new and important, coming from one that may well be regarded as a presidential candidate for 1932.

BERNARD SHAW, in his new "Back to the World," tells the world he was born 50 years too soon. But if he could return in 50 years, and learn what happened to the sale of his books, he might be surprised.

One is born too soon. One thousands of millions is born to waste his age, and other ages—Shakespeare, Euripides, Dante, Homer, Michael Angelo. But even they will pass, and become as obsolete as the Cro-Magnon artists.

Shaw shows his 75 years in talking about himself too much, his beard, his forehead, his cleverness. Movie-makers should speak to him.

ON MONDAY the king looked over his speech, to be read in the House of Lords, and approved it. He saw it then for the first time, when Ramsey MacDonald, who wrote it, handed it to him. You know that the British are an adaptable people when you see their king approving a speech of imperial politics written for him by a labor unionist.

Can you imagine one of our money kings approving a speech of corporate policies written in his name by the head of a labor union?

JUSTICE WINS SALARY SUIT AGAINST BOARD

State Supreme Court Refuses To Review Case Over Bailiff's Pay.

APPELLATE ORDER STANDS
Commissioners Must Approve $600 for 1929 and Like Sum for 1930.

The state supreme court today sustained the decision of the third district court of appeals in the case of Joseph M. Justice, court bailiff, against Marion county commissioners for back salary when it overruled a motion for certification of the appellate court's record in the case.

Commissioners were ordered by the common pleas court of Crawford county some time ago to pay Justice $600 back salary for 1929 and to appropriate an additional $600 for 1930, and the appellate court upheld the decision.

The case first began after Auditor Earl E. Thomas refused to pay Justice more than the $1,800 annual salary appropriated by commissioners, although Judge George R. Scofield, in employing Justice, had placed $2,400 as the annual salary figure. Justice sued Thomas but lost his case. He then started suit against the commissioners and won, the case being heard by Judge J. Walter Wright of Crawford county.

Judge Wright held that commissioners were bound to appropriate sufficient salary to meet the figure set by Judge Scofield when Justice was employed as court bailiff and constable.

The law firm of Guthrie, Strelitz & Guthrie represented Justice in both the cases against Thomas and against the commissioners. Prosecuting Attorney Alfred Donithen represented Thomas and the commissioners.

DAVEY TO WIND UP DEMOCRATIC DRIVE
Former Congressman Principal Speaker at Meeting Here Thursday.

Martin L. Davey of Kent, candidate for governor two years ago, will be the principal speaker at a Democratic rally to be held Thursday at 3 p. m. in the Marion Steam Shovel Co. auditorium, the final rally to be held by Marion County Democrats before the election Tuesday.

Thomas Duffy, former chairman of the state workmen's compensation commission, and Brooks Fletcher, former congressman, are among those listed on the program, over which Dr. C. J. Altmeyer, county chairman, will preside.

G. O. P. GAINS SHOWN IN EIGHTH DISTRICT

McCulloch, Cooper, Mouser Victory Forecast on Basis of Marked Change in Sentiment.

BY J. K. VODREY
Staff Correspondent for The Star
A tremendous pickup that had its start in Senator McCulloch's tour of the Eighth congressional district a week ago is expected to carry McCulloch, Cooper, and Representative Grant E. Mouser Jr., to victory in these six counties in the west central section of the state.

Two of the counties, Crawford and Wyandot, are termed Democratic, yet the Republican leaders feel they can almost break even in Wyandot and hold the Democratic majority in Crawford fairly close.

The other four counties, Marion, Hardin, Hancock and Morrow, are put in the Republican column, but in no case is there any great margin—just enough, observers feel certain, to put the heads of the Republican ticket safe, but, of course, there is every indication that Clarence J. Brown will run way ahead in his campaign for reelection as secretary of state.

G. O. P. Gains Momentum
The extent of the turnover of opinion in the district can be estimated by recalling that at the start of the campaign no Republican dared hope for anything better than a decent showing in the face of overwhelming opposition. Continued on Page Nine

EIGHT DROWN AS YACHT SINKS IN HEAVY SEA

Six Survivors of Sea Disaster Rescued by Passenger Liner.

WENT DOWN SATURDAY
Drifted in Atlantic Without Food or Water Until Picked Up.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 29—Eight persons were lost, including the owner and his wife, when the steam yacht Barbadose foundered off the Delaware capes Saturday. The S. S. Henry Mallory arrived in port today with six survivors which it picked up from a lifeboat yesterday.

E. G. Valverde, the owner, his wife, and three members of the crew went down with the ship. Three more members of the crew died in the lifeboat and were buried at sea.

Captain W. L. Hough, among the six rescued, said the ship ran into a terrific storm Saturday. He attempted to run her ashore to seek the lee of some islands. With the shore still many miles away Captain Hough said he found himself standing in water to his knees and he ordered the ship abandoned.

An effort had been made to lower a lifeboat when suddenly the ship plunged to starboard and sank.

Hough said he shouted to Valverde to jump overboard and himself leaped into the water, followed by several members of the crew.

The others apparently were afraid to jump and clung to the ship, which quickly sank.

Nine of the men gained the lifeboat and they set out on their long journey which ended yesterday afternoon when the Mallory sighted them. They were without water, except that which they licked off the sides of the boat, and within 12 hours three of the men, Walters, the mess boy, George Franklin, a seaman, and George Watts, the cook, were dead.

Late Sunday night, with a rough sea still running, Captain Hough said he ordered the bodies put overboard to lighten the craft.

EMPLOYMENT HEADS OF STATE IN SESSION

Outline of Plans To Aid Jobless Discussed at Conference in Columbus.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29—A tentative survey of the unemployment situation in Ohio was made today at a conference of Fred C. Croton, special assistant of the Ohio department of industrial relations, and representatives of the state city employment agencies.

Croton, who was loaned to President Hoover for the national committee to stabilize employment, Dr. R. M. Gries, construction expert of the federal department of commerce, and the 13 state-city employment agency heads and 11 division inspectors of the industrial relations bureau at the conference.

Purpose of Conference
Croton said the conference was called for the purpose of getting an idea on present unemployment throughout the state and to establish contacts with the committee appointed last spring by Governor Cooper to consider the problem.

Heads of the state city bureaus were advised to keep close contacts with the committee in their various localities and the 11 inspectors of the industrial relations department were advised to make contacts in those counties in which no employment bureaus were in operation.

Improvement Reported
Croton said those attending the conference reported improvement in conditions and that employers have promised to cooperate with

CONFESSES SLAYING WIFE AND CHILDREN
Police Head Says Charles King Admits Murder in Hamilton, O.

By The Associated Press
HAMILTON, O., Oct. 29—A confession that he killed his wife and four children by locking them in a gas-filled house while they slept was obtained from Charles King, 38, a barber, Chief of Police J. C. Calhoun said today.

Hounded by debts and believing his wife unfaithful to him, King concluded his family would be "better off dead," according to the confession announced by Calhoun.

The barber said he locked the house, took the cap off a gas pipe and jumped aboard a train for Lima late the night of Oct. 24, a year ago.

He spent the rest of the night in the "top room" at the Lima police station and then wandered over the middle of the night for more than a year until officers finally caught up with him at Fairport Harbor last Saturday. Brought here yesterday, he maintained at first that he remembered nothing of the wiping out of his family, but last night admitted the killings, according to Calhoun.

He will be given a preliminary hearing tomorrow on first degree charges which were sworn out soon after he disappeared, leaving a suicide note.

KEEPS SECRET DETAILS ABOUT 3-DAY ABSENCE

Galva, Ill., Financier Silent on Ransom and Other Kidnaping Facts.

SAYS REQUIREMENTS MET
Asserts That He'll Not Tell Full Story Even to Authorities.

By The Associated Press
GALVA, Ill., Oct. 29—Unharmful but reluctant to discuss his three-day disappearance, Earl Yocum, Galva, Ill., banker, returned to his home today.

The banker admitted he had been kidnapped but flatly refused to name the amount of his ransom. He was in a cheerful frame of mind but his replies to questions were guarded.

"How much ransom was paid?" he was asked.

"I am not going to tell," Yocum replied.

"Were you released because you complied with the requirements of your kidnappers?"

"Yes."

"Were the letters to Mrs. Yocum dictated?"

"Well, they were sort of suggested to me."

"Are you going to do anything about kidnapping?"

"I'll let somebody else save the country."

"Would it jeopardize your life?"

"I do not think I'd better answer that."

"Would you disclose details of your kidnapping if the authorities demanded?"

"No, I would not."

"Will you take precautions in the future?"

"I do not think that is necessary."

"No joke," he says.

Reporters mentioned similar kidnapping cases, and the handicap placed on authorities when victims remained silent.

"It's no joke," Yocum remarked, "but I think these things can be worked out without anybody being put on the spot."

Yocum said he did not know where he had been held prisoner, the number of his captors nor the nationality. He was blindfolded most of the time, he said.

The banker said he was dropped from an automobile near Atkinson in Henry county early this morning. He believed he was held a prisoner near Atkinson, as the automobile had not traveled far before he was released. He said he did not know whether he was held in a house or not.

The theory that he was held for ransom was strengthened when Mrs. Yocum received two special delivery letters, apparently in her husband's handwriting. She refused, however, to disclose the contents of the letters or the negotiations she was supposed to have entered into with the kidnappers. County authorities then suspended their search and at her request left the entire case to Mrs. Yocum.

Numerous Theories
There were many theories: That he was held by Chicago extortionists, by a St. Louis band of kidnapers who recently seized several gamblers, and that he was a captive in an abandoned coal mine. The report that the ransom demand was $50,000 gained wide circulation.

Yocum was returned to his home by a motorist who found him walking along a lonely road near Atkinson, Ill., about 15 miles from Galva. The motorist, Virgil De Reu, said Yocum asked for a ride in Galva. As soon as he got in the car, De Reu said, the banker identified himself. A four days' growth of beard was evident but Yocum seemed to be in good spirits.

"He laughed and smiled a lot, but he did not talk about his experiences at all," De Reu added.

As they drove up in front of the Yocum estate, the banker jumped from the car and hurried into the house, eluding reporters who had camped about the place for three days.

May Drop Prefix "East" from East Liverpool

By Brush-Moore Leased Wire
EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Oct. 29—The prefix "East" in East Liverpool will be dropped if the Columbiana county common pleas court grants the petition of a group of 41 city officials, business men, and manufacturers which was filed today. The prefix "East" the petitioners claim, is confusing in that it carries the impression that the city is a suburb of a larger community.

REGISTRATION HERE APPEARS AVERAGE

Number of Eligible Voters in Marion Compare Favorably with Other Cities.

Marion's registration figure of those eligible to vote in the November election next Tuesday compares favorably with cities of the same general population class, according to information gathered by the International News Service.

Marion has 11,875 voters on its eligibility lists while Steubenville has 11,357; Warren, 12,169; Mansfield, 13,979; and Lorain, 13,570. Other cities whose registration figures are available are as follows: Greater Cleveland, 312,257; Cincinnati, 186,213; Columbus, 94,587; Toledo, 86,543; Akron, 73,895; Dayton, 68,091; Youngstown, 53,985; Canton, 32,172; Portsmouth, 18,458; Lima, 16,888; East Liverpool, 17,361; Tiffin, 7,394; Ironton, 6,378; and Bellaire, 4,554.

There are 1,184,929 voters in the entire state who have registered. This total represents only those in cities of 16,000 or more, which were the only districts required by law to register.

GAS HIGHER

Cuyahoga County Price War Ends. Price Goes to 19 and 22.

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 29—A 10-day stretch of bargain price gasoline ended for Cuyahoga county motorists today.

Fifteen of the large gasoline distributing companies announced a five-cent increase, bringing the average price back to 19 cents a gallon for regular gas and 22 for the higher grades. Standard Oil of Ohio, which took the lead, said the lower price levels were "ruinous."

W. T. Holliday, president of Standard, said the change would not affect the Akron area where a war has kept prices at 12 and 15 cents for a month.

NAMED QUEEN

Miss Agnes Heskett Chosen for High Honor at Ohio State.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29—Miss Agnes Marie Heskett, Amanda, O., an independent candidate, was elected homecoming queen at Ohio State university last night by an unprecedented plurality. She defeated a group of five sorority candidates for the office.

Miss Heskett was backed for the honorary position by the majority of the law college and an independent student organization that started a battle against the sorority candidates who had won the honor in previous years.

In addition to her college studies, Miss Heskett is a part-time stenographer in a downtown office.

She will preside over the annual homecoming ball following the Ohio-State Wisconsin football game Saturday.

Free Thinker

(Will Rogers Special)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Oct. 29—Senator Shipstead of Minnesota paid me a little visit at the ranch Sunday. He ain't either a Democrat or Republican, and it was mighty refreshing to talk to somebody who could tell you the truth about both sides.

He is the only senator who don't have to have a convention to tell him what to think. In the same paper this morning, where I said we needed a big navy, why the secretary of the navy said the same thing. I never thought I would live to see the day that I would be thinking on a par with the Boston Adamses.

Mr. Coolidge said he wouldn't talk on the radio till some humanitarian cause presented itself. It did. The Republicans in Massachusetts needed him. Yours,

Flagpole Sitter to Commence Contest

Betty Fox To Ascend Hotel Perch Thursday at 10 A. M.

Betty Fox will start her flagpole sitting contest Thursday at 10 a. m. The 50 foot pole on which she will sit has been erected on top of Hotel Harding.

She's going up with the intention of breaking her previous 36 hour record, and to do this she must sit or stand on a 12 inch square board at the top of the pole, until Monday at 2 p. m. This will give her a record of 109 hours.

Immediately after she descends from the pole and before changing her costume, she will make a personal appearance at the Marathon pavilion at Crystal Lake park.

Already she has received telephone calls from her friends in Columbus, and from Marion friends who call to wish her luck in her venture. While she sits on the flagpole her telephone number will be 1811.

Find Bodies of Eight Miners Killed in Blast

By The Associated Press
MALESTER, Okla., Oct. 29—The bodies of eight of the 29 miners trapped by an explosion in the Wheatley No. 4 coal mine near here were found on the eighteenth level this morning. It was announced at the mine top.

Evidence of the unusual force of the explosion and after-damp encountered by rescuers caused them to abandon hope of finding any of the trapped victims alive.

The lethal gas which filled the shaft following the explosion so hampered rescuers that they frequently were forced to withdraw until the after-damp had cleared away.

CHAPTER 22
An Anonymous Warning

A T the Broom mansion Lester found only a letter from Dr.
Lytton saying he had taken Gran-nock to Baltimore for treatment by Dr. Downing, the eye specialist, accompanied by Nurse Casey.
There was no word of Halie.
Lester assumed she must have gone back to New York and so returned there, but after a week's search of hospitals and nursing homes where she must of necessity seek employment, he was forced to admit himself beaten. The strain was beginning to wear him down.
In desperation he went back to Southoliff and sought out Dr. Lytt-on, who already had written that he had returned.

somehow. You told me yourself that you'd get her out of Socks life as quickly and quietly as was safe.
"Will," growled Lytton.
"Im merely reminding you that she's engaged to me, and that if you don't want her to marry Socks, you might just as well help me to find her."
If she wanted to marry you you wouldn't have to look for her. I imagine.
"Shes wants to marry me all right. At any rate, shed far rather marry me than have me explain matters to Socks."

"Oh, dont be that way, doctor!
Im only looking at the thing from my point of view."
The two were standing out in Lyttons face his hands were clenched and his shoulders thrust forward.
"Are you definitely telling me that youll write the truth to your brother if I dont help you to find Miss Cosgrove?" he shouted.
I suppose it comes to that.
"Is it you that your brother ought to know the truth about, you cur?"
"Will tell him if you think itll cheer him up. I wont stop you."
Lytton strode back to the window. There was a long silence. Lester, pleased and refreshed, lit a cigarette.
He had half finished it before the doctor came away from the window. Lyttons face bore no expression whatever.
"Very well," he said. "For cleanness sake, Miss Cosgrove is in New England."

her behalf it must have jarred your conscience horribly.
"Go on—get out of my house!"
returned Lytton with violence.
A quarter of an hour later Dr.
Lytton sent a telegram. It ran as follows: "Broom probably starting north today." It was directed to Cosgrove at the address he had given Lester, but he did not sign it.

Jubilee's
Pardner
A Story of Boyhood
Adventure

BY JUD M. LEWIS

WEDNESDAY. When me and Jubilee woke up this morning and looked at each other I told him
I wished it would snow pretty soon, or that the pond would freeze. It is too cold to go swimming and there is no snow so a fella can't go sliding, and no ice to skate on, so this is the time of year that a fella can't have much fun. All he can do is to milk the cows and go to school.
When I had let him down by his rope and had put on my short britches and went down and fixed the bass burner and milked the cows and turned them out and was feeding my face, my father told me he thought I might as well leave the cows in the barn and not take them to the pasture any more, for the end of the month is almost here anyhow. I didn't know that the end of the month meant anything to a cow, but when I told him the cows were already on the way to the pasture he said I could go after them and bring them back;
but Johnny Griswold and his cows were going to the pasture so were Peanuts and his, so my cows wanted to go along. I tried to get them to come back, but one of them got in a lady's yard when I was chasing her and trampled her garden, and the lady got mad and came out with a pan of hot water to throw on her, but the cow and Feeble, who was helping me chase her were going past so fast that Feeble got the water instead of the cow, and then the woman was sorry, and she got a towel and wiped Feeble's face and neck and gave her an apple and a cookie and told her to hurry home and get dry clothes on. Feeble said the water was only warm when it got to her. Then Youniss and Maggie went home with Feeble and I drove the cow home and had to go to the pasture for the other one, and all the bunch had left me and had went to school, and I was late, and the teacher said she was glad she didn't have any more cowboys. I didn't know I was a cowboy. It made me kinda proud.
When we went around to my house after school there was a man there taking pictures, and he had a goat with long whiskers hitched to a cart, and my mother had put Annabelle Lee in the cart and she was holding the lines and grinning like a punkin lantern, and my ant and mother was standing back looking proud. As soon as Jubilee saw the goat he began to bark and circle around it and the goat put its head down and began to turn around to keep its head toward Jubilee and the wagon clamped and tipped Annabelle Lee out and she began to holler, and my ant ran and picked her up just as the goat made a butt at Jubilee, and one of my ant's feet was through the lines, and she got down sudden with Annabelle Lee in her lap.
Then my mother told the man to never mind a picture today, and he went away mad, and my ant was mad and Annabelle Lee was howling, but my mother told me to never mind. I guess my ant's setting down was all right with her.

Cooking School Note by Mrs. Emily M. Lautz

In the cooking school I conducted recently under the auspices of The Star, I stressed modern methods of cooking. Naturally, then, I use and recommend CRISCO—for it's a modern shortening. Mrs. Emily M. Lautz.

Did George Washington
name it for a real Sally Lunn?

WHO was Sally Lunn? Some say she was George Washington's housekeeper—who made a certain hot-bread that was so good he gave it her name. Others say that Sally once sold these famous tea-cakes on the streets of Bath, England. At any rate, you've heard of Sally Lunn, but maybe you've never eaten the real one.
Here it is, straight from Virginia. A descendant of the first president's family gave me this recipe, with this improvement: she specifies Crisco, a modern shortening that tastes so sweet you just know it's bound to improve the flavor of anything you make with it.

SALLY LUNNS

- 1/4 cup Crisco
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs (beaten)
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups flour
2 1/2 cup milk
Cream Crisco and sugar together. Add beaten eggs and mix well. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt and add alternately with milk to the first mixture. Bake in a Criscoed shallow pan in hot oven (400° F.) 20 to 25 minutes.

HIGHLAND SCONES

- This is a Caledonian hot-bread with an American accent—speed!
2 cups bread flour
1 1/2 cup milk
2 eggs
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
5 tablespoons Crisco
Jam or marmalade
2 tablespoons sugar
4 teaspoons baking powder
Blend Crisco with sifted dry ingredients. (No long process of cutting hard fat into the flour—Crisco is of workable consistency.) Stir in milk and eggs, spoon dough onto oiled paper dusted with flour. Pat with hand to 1/4 inch thickness. Spread jam or marmalade over half the dough, cover with other half and press gently together. Cut into squares and then crosswise to form triangles. Brush with milk to give a rich brown glaze, and bake in hot oven (450° F.) from 10 to 15 minutes. Serve while hot for tea or breakfast. (Omit sugar from recipe and spread dough with 1/4 cup grated American or pimiento cheese instead of jam or marmalade and you'll have a delectable scone to serve with salad.)

Checking up on the Home—

An obvious indication of a home going to seed is failing furniture, worn rugs, etc.

With the exception of such good, old, substantial pieces that you wish to keep because of their sentimental value, all failing furniture, all no-longer-welcome furniture, all behind-the-times pieces, should be exchanged for new, stylish, up-to-the-minute designs.

Through our Exchange Department Plan you can turn in, AS PART PAYMENT ON NEW furniture, all such single pieces, or suites, that have overstayed their welcome, or are no longer wanted by the family, for whatever the reason may be.

All you have to do is to stop in, see whether we have in stock the exact kind of new furniture you want, see if our price and terms suit you, and if they do, then we will send our appraisal man to your home and he will tell you, to a dollar, just how much we can allow you for your used pieces.

It's a mighty fine plan—and our customers appreciate it.

LEAVES LUXURY FOR STAGE CAREER

NEW YORK — Jeanne Aubert traveled thousands of miles to escape a life of wealthy leisure, and now she reports for work each night at the stage door.

As the wife of Nelson Morris, millionaire Chicago meat packer, she could lead a life with every desire granted.

But career is more important than marriage to this slim, blonde French singer.

Weds Rich Student
After a whirlwind romance with Morris, then known as the richest student in Harvard, Miss Aubert married him in Paris.

She wanted to continue on the stage but he went into French courts and got an injunction preventing this, quoting the French law that "a wife is subject to her husband in all matters."

She fled to Liege and to Milan, but he kept her out of the theater there. Then she sailed for this country and was given one of the leading roles in the operetta, "Princess Charming."

Reason for Suit
"I consider my stage career more important than any marriage I can make," she explains. "My main object in seeking a divorce is because he objects to my stage appearance."

"I want to work. I've been on the stage all my life since I was a chorus girl at the Apollo theater in Paris and I want to work while I'm still young."

MAIN ST. MERCHANTS BOOST DEDICATION

Participants To Meet Tonight in Rosenberg Store To Discuss Plans.

General plans for a gala celebration to mark the reopening of Main street shortly after Nov. 15 will be worked out in finer detail tonight when a special committee of merchants on plans and arrangements meet at the S. G. Rosenberg store.

Cooperation of practically every merchant on Main street has been assured, according to George Kleinmaier, general chairman, today. This was indicated in a survey of merchants made by the cooperation committee.

Sufficient funds to make the dedication festivities a real treat for every Marionite and residents of Marion county have been provided, chairmen say.

Main street merchants already have a fair sample of what the improved street will be. The improved section from Center street south to Columbia is now in use, and last night, for the first time, several "white way" lights were burning along that section of the street.

Contractors are speeding the north section of the street. Pavement between Center street and the railroad tracks is slated to be completed and opened before the end of the week.

PROGRESSIVE GRANGE IN REGULAR MEETING

Rural Group Unveils Picture of Founder of Organization.

Several hundred grangers were served a cafeteria supper at the Progressive grange last night at the hall southeast of Marion. A meeting of Pomona grange Saturday, Nov. 1 at the Montgomery grange hall at DeCliff, was announced. The Progressive grange will elect officers on Nov. 10, the next meeting date.

A group of patriotic songs and drills by school children under the direction of Harold Compton and L. H. McGhee opened the program. A picture of Oliver Hudson Kelley, founder of the grange movement, presented to Progressive grange recently from the state organization, was unveiled last night by the grange master, Alpheus Gruber. A reading, "Bachelor's for Sale," was given by Gertrude Oborn followed by a vocal selection by Harold Compton. Mrs. Mary Alice McAfee gave a reading, "My Dad." An impersonation of a colored preacher delivering a sermon was given by Mr. Gruber. A novelty stunt was put on by Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Mack, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Gruber, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fetter and Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus Gruber. Short talks were given by deputy master and matron, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Williams, Carl Hill, Miss Maude Hill and Henry Snider. Guests from Grand Prairie and United Granges were present.

Grand Jury Will Get Evidence in Galion Bank Case Nov. 12

CASEY WILL BE FIRST IN COURT

Department of Justice Completing Investigation of Bank's Records.

By International News Service
CLEVELAND, Oct. 29.—Evidence in the case of James E. Casey, who is accused of embezzling $207,000 in funds from the Citizens National bank at Galion, O., of which he formerly was president, will be presented to the federal grand jury next month. It was announced here today by Assistant U. S. District Attorney William McDermott.

The department of justice, according to McDermott, has not yet completed its investigation of the bank's records. Full account of the department's investigation, however, will be ready by Nov. 12 when the grand jury meets, McDermott said.

The case of the accused Galion bank president will be one of the first to be considered by the grand jury, McDermott stated.

Casey entered a plea of not guilty to charges of embezzlement and falsification of bank records when he was arraigned here before U. S. Commissioner H. K. Cochran last July 30. He was freed the next day on bond of $12,500. The evidence originally was scheduled to be presented to the September grand jury but action on the case was deferred because the department of justice investigation had not been completed.

Thieves Remove Motor, Then Set Auto on Fire

KENTON, Oct. 29.—Officials have opened an investigation in an effort to trace the thieves who stole the automobile of Miss Eva Oberlander of Mt. Victory, from its parking place on the public square here, and later destroyed it by fire along a highway northwest of Marion after removing the motor.

Indications were, police said, that the thieves first saturated the car with gasoline and then set fire to it.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, hollow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, lead ache, a listless no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets now and then to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c. Adv.

TO CELEBRATE AT RICHWOOD

Chamber of Commerce Sponsoring Dedication of Street and Lights.

Special To The Star
RICHWOOD, Oct. 29.—Under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, a Halloween celebration, dedication and formal opening of the new asphalt street and the recently installed lighting system is planned for Friday afternoon and night.

Beginning at 1:30 the Capital City orchestra of Columbus will open the program. Out-of-town speakers will be heard in the afternoon. A football game will be played by Richwood and Plain City, on the school grounds.

The state, county and local officials will be guests of the Chamber of Commerce at a 6 o'clock dinner at Hotel Villa. The merchants' treasure hunt will be a feature in the early evening followed by short addresses by the dinner guests.

Prizes will be awarded to the winners of the masquerade party. For the square dance on the street, the Old Time Fiddlers will furnish the music, and the Capital City orchestra will furnish the music for the round dances.

The committee in charge has spared no effort in making it an outstanding event.

In keeping with the season, plenty of cider and doughnuts will be available.

T. B. TEST IN HARDIN COUNTY NEARING END

90 Per Cent of Work Completed; Refusal Not To Stop Men.

Special To The Star
KENTON, Oct. 29.—Within a week or ten days more than 20,000 Hardin county cattle will have been tested for tuberculosis, it was announced today by E. R. Tam, supervisor of the Kanton high school vocational agriculture department, and leader in establishing this county in the tuberculosis-tested area.

More than 90 per cent of all the cattle listed on the tax duplicate had been tested today by state and federal veterinarians who are now in this county completing work. Orders have been issued by the federal government authorizing them to go ahead and test herds where owners have refused to have them tested.

Cassara township led all other county districts in the number of refusals accorded veterinarians. Twelve owners refused to allow their herds tested. In McDonald township, three herd owners refused and Roundhead township had two refusals.

WAID SPEAKS

State Highway Director Addresses Galion Kiwanians at Party.

GALION, Oct. 29.—An outstanding event on the social calendar of the local Kiwanis club took place last night in the form of a "Kiwanis Highway Halloween Party." The affair was held at the First Reformed church with a roast chicken dinner served at 6:45. Kiwanis' wives were also present making the total attendance about 75. Past president, Edgar Beall, presided during the meeting which opened with Halloween songs and stunts in charge of C. F. Monroe and E. P. Monroe. The speaker for the occasion was Robert N. Waid of Columbus, state highway director. Mr. Waid was introduced by Attorney Carl Gugler, president of the Harding Highway association. Mr. Waid gave a talk on the present and future highways of the state.

PHONE CONCERN FILES PROTEST

Morrow County Group Asks That Valuation of $785,056 Be Placed.

Special To The Star
MT. GILEAD, Oct. 29.—The Ohio Telephone Corp., serving Morrow county, has filed a protest against the action of the utilities commission in placing a tentative valuation of $407,733 upon the company's properties used and useful as of Sept. 1, 1929 in furnishing service through its various exchanges in Morrow county, including Mt. Gilead and Cardington.

The company seeks a valuation of $785,056.

The commission will conduct a public hearing before deciding upon its final valuation for rate-making purposes. The case is based upon protest of the plan of the company to charge increased rates.

The company is now collecting from telephone users under bond. If the utilities valuation is upheld, the rates will be ordered and probably a rebate to customers on monthly bills paid since the increased rates were made effective.

TRIAL OPENS FOR 4 HELD IN COW THEFT

MT. GILEAD, Oct. 29.—At a meeting of the Junior Baptist Young People's Union of the Baptist church, the following officers were elected: President, Richard Blaney, vice president, Marilyn Tuttle, secretary, Evelyn Edgell, assistant secretary, Ellen Blaney, organist, Thelma Trainor, chorister, Frances Woodruff and assistant chorister, Vivian Tuttle.

200 ATTENDING TWO-DAY MEET

Central Conference of Missionary Societies Opens at Bucyrus.

Special To The Star
BUCYRUS, Oct. 29.—Nearly 200 visiting church women were in attendance Tuesday when St. Paul's Lutheran Women's Missionary society entertained the central conference in the opening session of a two-day meet.

Rev. Roy S. Bowers opened the afternoon session with an address of welcome and Miss Clara Daugherty conducted devotionals. In addition to reports of committees and business features the afternoon session consisted of the presentation by St. Paul's Light Brigade of a dramatization.

Dinner was served by the Young Women's Missionary society in the church dining room with Miss Olga Winegartner acting as hostess and Mrs. D. G. Arnold as toastmistress.

Miss Jessie Thomas, returned missionary from India, delivered the evening address.

A business session was held this morning with the election of officers as the main feature. The morning address was delivered by Mrs. H. C. Bell, field secretary of the United Lutheran church of America. Reports of the Racine convention were also part of the morning program.

"Making Missions Interesting for Children" was the topic of the afternoon address scheduled to be made by Mrs. Alfred J. Penner of Ellyria. Installation of officers will also feature the afternoon program.

GALAXY OF SUPER BALL CARRIERS ON GRIDIRON THIS YEAR

Booth of Yale; Bruder of N.W.; Savoldi of Irish Stand Out.

By COPELAND C. BURG
I. N. S. Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Perhaps not since the days of the Red Grange, has there been spread under the campus canopy such a galaxy of great ball carriers as during this 1930 football season.

Albie Booth of Yale, "Jack, the Ripper," Roberts of Georgia, Jim Bausch of Kansas, Hank Bruder of Northwestern, Johnny Sisk of Marquette, "Shipwreck" Kelly of Kentucky, Mike Savoldi of Notre Dame and Harry Newman, Michigan, are among the outstanding eliminators of space as football turns the corner this Saturday for the home stretch.

One cannot help registering that Booth alone approaches Grange and even so he lacks most of the dash and color that made the Wheaton, Illinois, youth sure-fire in catching the nation's fancy. In the first place Booth isn't a college ice man, a qualification that had a ringing appeal for Grange.

Many critics of Booth point out that if he were playing with a small school he would not be rated at all. Quite so, but that's just the point.

Men like Booth and Savoldi get the supreme test every Saturday and when they come through against most of the outstanding teams in the country they naturally must rate at the top of the list.

Bausch Gets Chance

This week-end the east gets a chance to see a highly touted western back. He is Jim Bausch of Kansas, classed as the best in the west. Kansas plays Pennsylvania in Philadelphia and the game will be a severe test for Bausch.

Roberts, called the best back in the south, leads the nation's scorers with a total of 72 points. Georgia, too, has met some of the strong Bruder To Start Wildcat Game with Gophers; Bucks Battle Badgers.

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Football activity is far from dead in the college camp of Amos Alonzo Stagg. Thirty thousand reservations already have been made for the Chicago-Princeton game Saturday and Coach Stagg has his somewhat weary team all steamed up for a comeback.

Although minus an important victory in the 1929 campaign the Maroons are expected to give the Tiger a very interesting afternoon. More than 10,000 Princeton alumni plan to attend the game and the annual Princeton dinner Friday night.

With the return to duty of Captain Hank Bruder, Northwestern has jumped to the status of an overwhelming favorite over Minnesota in the stand-out game of the Big Ten championship fight next Saturday. Bruder, out for almost three weeks, was named as a certain starter in the Minnesota game by Coach Dick Hanley.

Minnesota Meanwhile Plodded Along

Minnesota meanwhile plodded along, hoping to upset the Wildcats and remain in the title race itself.

Purdue Plays Illini

Purdue, still a mathematical contender for the title despite its one-point defeat by Michigan, expects to meet Illinois with a full lineup Saturday. Alex Yunevich, the Bollermaker's crashing fullback will be back and so will the rest of the regulars, who have been in uncapacitated more or less since the opening game of the season.

Forward passes continued to harass the Illini. The freshmen, equipped with Purdue forward pass plays, baffled Coach Bob Zuppke's first string team in last night's practice as "Zup" wailed a new blues song and predicted a lopsided victory for the Bollermakers.

Ohio State may be a tougher foe than Wisconsin anticipated Saturday. The Buckeyes flashed a lot of power in a long scrimmage against the freshmen, and Wesley Fisher, alternating at end and fullback, stirred hopes for a reversal of form against the Badgers.

Meanwhile, the Badgers concentrated on a passing attack. All the regulars will be available for the game and the Badgers, believing they have a chance to win or tie in the championship race, planned to shoot the works against the Buckeyes.

All was sad and dreary at Indiana where Pat Page's Hoosiers were trying to get warmed up for the Notre Dame game. Coach Page revised his lineup here and there but it will be about the same one that faced the Southern Methodists a week ago.

Hornsby May Start Deals To Strengthen Bruin Club for 1931.

A GOOD START

By The Associated Press
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 29.—Official attendance figures disclosed today that 164,000 have watched Notre Dame in its first four games of the 1930 football season.

The figures are: Southern Methodist 20,000; U. S. Naval Academy, 42,000; Carnegie Tech, 32,000, and Pittsburgh, 70,000.

refused to affirm or deny rumors of wholesale changes in the team's personnel but from tomorrow on, announcements of changes are expected to be numerous.

The status of Captain Charlie Grimm, regular Cub first baseman, is one of the big question marks in the minds of Cub fans. Rumor has it that Grimm is to be traded or sold and that Jim Bottomley of the St. Louis Cardinals will succeed him.

Another report involves Leo "Gabby" Hartnett, the big Cub catcher. It is known that Hornsby thinks well of the ability of Al Spahr, backstop for the Boston Braves, and that he wants him to become a Cub, especially with a lot of new pitching talent coming to the Cubs next spring.

Definite announcement of the purchase of Pitcher Ed Baecht from the Cub farm at Los Angeles of the Pacific coast league is expected soon.

SPOTLIGHT TO PLAY ON OHIO-WISCONSIN CONTEST SATURDAY

No Outstanding Small College Games on List This Week-End.

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29.—Outstanding gridiron games, which usually hold sway in Ohio, are absent from the coming week-end's show, and the biggest rays of the spotlight will be drawn to the Ohio stadium at Columbus Saturday where Ohio State receives the onslaught of Wisconsin.

The Oberlin-Akron tilt, the Miami-Ashland mix-up and the Capital-Kenyon affair are the best that the smaller Buckeye teams have to offer. Oberlin and Akron are old rivals and a lot of fight will enter their annual grid meeting. Akron, so far undefeated, is favored over the Yeomen.

The Ashland Hilltoppers, who were held to a scoreless tie last week by Kent State, will attempt to redeem themselves in the Miami game. The Big Reds from Ashland are somewhat crippled following the encounter with the champion Bobcats of Ohio university. Ashland is determined and a close battle is expected.

Capital Defends Record

Capital, another member of the undefeated clique, is expected to beat Kenyon, although the Gambler eleven is somewhat of an unknown quantity. Kenyon lost three in a row to Ashland, Haverford and Rochester, but Ohio fans have not yet seen this plucky little team perform in its full force and it may stage an upset.

Heidelberg, one of the leaders of the pack, will engage its first Ohio conference opponent, Ohio Northern. The Polar Bears are weak and Heidelberg is one of the strongest outfits in the state. The result is inevitable.

Kent State, victim of three defeats and a tie, will seek revenge at the expense of Hiram, the only team in the state which has not yet scored a single point.

Wilberforce Travels

The rambling colored boys of Wilberforce will continue their barnstorming of the United States and will tackle Clark college at Atlanta Saturday.

In the Buckeye conference, Ohio university has a set-up with Cincinnati, the other three outfits lacking Ohio conference foes. Ohio Wesleyan should win easily over Western Reserve, while Denison will be out for its first win of the season against Otterbein.

Two games are on the card for the Northwest conference. Bowling Green, in a tie for first place, shouldn't have such a tough assignment against Toledo. Findlay, which held the Bee Gees to a tie last week, will attempt to keep its league slate clean from defeat against Defiance. Bluffton, the fifth member of the group has another open date.

SPORTS

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK

It looks like Coach Bohrer is planning to shift back to his original starting grid lineup this week in an effort to get the Harding High boys into somewhere near the form they displayed near the start of the season. Bohrer ran his changes through a stiff practice session yesterday afternoon with several changes gracing the lineup. Chief among the shifts was the move that sent Junior Clay back to his left tackle post and again put Homer Houseworth at the fullback post. When it comes to deciding whether or not he will start the Mansfield game with this lineup your guess is as good as mine but mine is that he will come closer to doing this than anything else.

In the Bucyrus game Clay didn't look particularly good at the fullback post when it came to hitting the line. His play dropped several points below what it had been in previous games. In this particular he cannot be singled out though for so did the play of all the other Presidents.

While Houseworth was in the game he probably did slightly better at hitting the line than anyone else. On several occasions he smashed it like he knew where he wanted to go but aside from this he did not perform in a particularly sensational manner. Despite this sad fact he gained more yards through the line, considering the time he was in the game, than any other Harding player.

The position for Clay apparently is on the line. At least it doesn't look like he is going to be made over into a back on short notice. He might develop but probably he would need to start at the opening of the season rather than near the last part. Even though he did not come through in the Bucyrus game in as capable a manner as he probably would have at tackle it looks like Bohrer did the right thing to try him there. Line plunging was needed in the backfield and Clay looked like the man to put it there. It was a move that apparently didn't work but no one can blame Bohrer for that.

Another shift this week may send the diminutive Bob Keller to a

RIPLEY

CREATOR OF BELIEVE IT or NOT—PROVES IT

SCENE OF OLD GOLD'S LATEST TRIUMPH...The Golf Course back of the Roxy Theatre in New York, where O. G.'s won Public Taste-T Old Gold Wins..

with Broadway's Midnight Golfers

By ROBERT RIPLEY, Creator of Believe It or Not

"In the past 3 years I have served 'Believe It or Not' facts to more than 200 million people.

"And I've never printed a fact I could not prove... If there was the slightest doubt, it went in the waste basket.

"Here are the results of my latest test. 237 Midnight Golfers on the course / back of the Roxy Theatre in New York tested the 4 leading brands of cigarettes... OLD GOLD included... with brand names concealed.

"Believe it or not... OLD GOLD won hands down... ahead of nearest rival by 76% as the scoreboard shows.

Final Score! OLD GOLD, 88; Brand X, 50; Brand Y, 40; Brand Z, 49. (Signed) J. S. M. Goodloe, Certified Public Accountant.

SCHOOL HEADS SHOW NEED OF NEW LEVY

Deficit Faced at Caledonia; Three Mills Asked of Voters Nov. 4.

Special to The Star
CALEDONIA, Oct. 23 — The most important questions to be decided by the voters of Caledonia school district at the general election Tuesday, Nov. 4, will be that of the school levy of three mills for three years. For a number of years prior to 1930 this levy has helped to support the schools of the district. Last year the levy was defeated by a small majority and the schools are now facing serious financial difficulties unless this levy is approved at the coming election.

According to school officials the deficit in the general fund from which all operating expenses of the school must be paid, will be approximately $1,000 on Jan. 1, 1931. If the levy should not be approved and the same amount of tax received in Feb. 1931 as in Feb. 1930 the deficit will have increased at the end of the present school year to approximately $4,900. The deficit must then be paid from the Aug. 1931 tax, leaving sufficient funds to operate the school for only two months next fall, it was pointed out.

A program of music will be given by the pupils of the Caledonia schools in the school auditorium Thursday night under the direction of W. A. Trichter, music supervisor. The school levy will be discussed at this meeting and opportunities for questions and discussions given.

The rank of Page was conferred on one candidate Monday night at a meeting of Calantha Lodge K. of P. The Page rank and rank of Esquire will be conferred next Monday night.

Will Sees Polo as Great Game That's Not So Costly; Demand for Ponies Is Reestablishing Horse Breeding

Plans To Play Until Whiskers Become Tangled with Horse's Tail.

By WILL ROGERS
Well, I know it is just what I read in the papers. I was just sitting here tonight reading a very beautiful Horse Magazine called "Polo". It is the issue that tells of the great International Match played between England and America, and it gives the very detail of each play, and also tells of the sale of the Horses after the match. You know I was just thinking it might be interesting to some of you to know something especially about the Horses for you don't have to be a Polo Nut to be interested in good horses.

There was $335,000 worth of horses sold at public auction after the games. The British sold 48 head for $183,400. The Americans 36 head for $17,900. The British averaged pretty near $4,000 a horse. The Americans only about $2,000 and the Australians $3,000. The reason the Americans didn't bring as much was the fact that most of the best horses played by the American team was privately owned and was not put up for sale at all. The ones sold were just the ones that were owned by the Polo Association.

The games are pulled off under the management of the U. S. Polo Association. They guarantee the British team their transportation and expenses and all which is taken out of the Gate receipts, and this year the Association had themselves bought up quite a string of ponies for our team. Heretofore they had depended entirely on the generosity of other players loaning their best horses to the big team, but this year they bought some themselves, and sold them after the games.

Team of Brothers

The Australian didn't of course play in the big matches, but they had brought a great team over here who had created quite a fuss over in England. It was composed entirely of Brothers, four young men from 22 to 28, the Ashton Brothers, and their Father and Mother were with them. They had a very fine string of Ponies, were supposed to be a little smaller than our Boys have been playing. But they were very handy, and a lot of them were so well reigned that you could play them in a snaffle bit Bridle. Of course some individuals sold their Horses. Charles Wrightman a fine young Sportsman and member of our Club out here on the coast was good enough to marry Eric Padley, the sensation of the games, and a fellow Coast Player. Eric had gone back there to try out a time or two before in International matches, but he never had a proper chance for he wasn't properly mounted, but this time Charles sent back twenty head just for Eric to play through the test matches on.

You know a horse is really from 60 to 70 percent of the game. That's about the ratio the Experts figure it. If you can't beat a man to the ball why there is no use going. Its speed, and more speed that counts with those big League fellows. Us Punks can loaf around and have a lot of fun on a pack of old Hounds, but if we was among those fast fellows we would get run over.

Most of the Horses that make those big games are Thoroughbreds, or three quarters so. An awful lot of them are bred and raised on Western ranches, and lots of them have run cattle. Polo had not only been a recreation or hobby of a lot of rich people, but its been a God-send to the Horse business, and there is dozens of men just prowling all over the west buying likely "prospects" for Polo. The game is growing so fast and the demand for horses so great that its a real business now.

The Argentine has really furnished more horses to our International game than we have. They have been breeding good Horses down there for years. I was down there in 1901 and I saw well bred Horses on ranches then, while we was breeding nothing but just old range Ponies. I worked my way on a Stock boat to South Africa from Buenos Aires and we had on board a couple of hundred thoroughbred horses to restock a ranch in Africa after the Boer War.

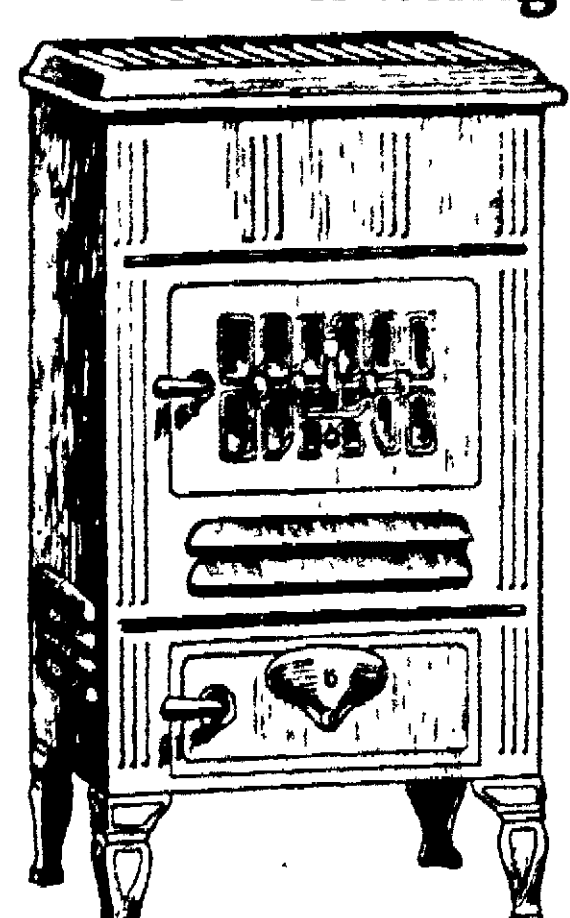

While Slave an English bred mare played by the English brought $13,000 Bucks, that was the top price, bought by Laddie Sandford. Lady Luck, another English one, owned and played by Lewis Lacey, the great Argentine and English Player, brought $10,000, and an Australian mare Isobel, $10,000. Course lots of them brought 1500, and a thousand, but even at that price you are sitting on quite an expensive hunk of horseflesh. And you can't always tell the ones you give the more for may not turn out to be the best. Its sorter what suits certain men. No two humans are the same and no two horses either. Nobody can look at a horse and tell what he is worth, he is worth to you just how good he is to you and how bad you want him and how well he suits you.

Expense Not Needed
Why would any horse be worth the same to any two people? All the Colleges have taken up Polo now and thats a great boost for it and this thing of it costing all this money is a lot of Hokey. You can buy three or four old fifty dollar crow bates and have as much fun with the game as Jock Whitney, or Laddie Sandford, who each have perhaps from a quarter to a half million just in their Polo Strings alone. That half million to them is just like us buying an extra bowl of Chili. The boy on the sand lot gets just as big a kick out of a home run as Babe Ruth, and the Dub Polo Player on a hired horse gets just as much kick out of making a goal as Hitchcock. Its a great game, and it learns you to ride quicker than anything on earth for when you start hitting at the ball you forget about now you are going to stay on, you just do it unthinkingly. Age don't keep you from playing it. Arthur Binkharts Father in law, Steward Carr, he is in his seventys plays twice a week at Meadowbrook. I was 51 Saturday, and played Sunday, after coming from Sunday School. I didnt play good but I had as much fun missing, as the others did hitting. I am going to play till my whiskers get tangled up in the horses tail.

DR. J. W. BULL

Editor's Note—This is one of a series of stories being published by The Star to acquaint Marion county voters with local and district candidates who will be voted on at the polls Nov. 4.

candidate has been practicing here since obtaining his M. D. degree at the University of Illinois. Prior to coming here he lived in Chicago, Ill., and Coshocton. He is 32 years of age.

The Democratic candidate is Dr. Kenneth Smith of 456 Elm-

Neither of the men has been a candidate for public office before.

Dr. Smith serves a year on the staff of the Franklin County Tuberculosis hospital at Columbus and a year at Springfield City hospital. His office here is in the Union Trust building.

Even the most conservative firms have produced new high-speed engines working on the compression ignition principle. These engines have been extraordinarily successful on test and have produced enormous power for a very small expenditure of energy.

These results have been achieved by the application of the super-charger principle to heavy oil engines. Though the use of super-chargers in ordinary touring gasoline cars is becoming more general, it is only recently that they have been adapted to diesel engines.

Not only have they increased the power and improved the running of these remarkably economical engines but they have also made it possible to decrease their weight.

In addition the oil engines are more suitable for use in aircraft. Formerly the power of these engines fell away at certain heights.

Brush Engineers Consider New Type of Motor for Automobiles

By International News Service LONDON—Will oil engines be used exclusively in the automobile of the future? Is the gasoline drive in motor-car engine doomed?

These are the questions which every British manufacturer is now asking himself.

Most of these motor manufacturers are building compression ignition types of oil engines for cars, aircraft and motorboats. In practically every case these engines are

Eagles' Charity Fund $29,712 in 14 Years

Marion Eagles this week are staging their annual charity indoor fair that has made it possible for the lodge to do outstanding charity work in Marion in the last 14 years. The fair is staged by the Eagles lodge and the income is devoted entirely to charity work outside of lodge members. No portion of the income from the fair is used for salaries or expense of furnishing and establishing the equipment used in the fair, lodge officers state.

Since the lodge began doing charity work for persons outside the membership in 1916 a total of $29,712 has been distributed among the needy in Marion and Marion township according to John A. Abel, secretary of the lodge and chairman of the fair committee. The amount of money distributed each year increased annually from $380 spent the first year to $4,276 in 1928. In 1929 the amount distributed was $2,015.

When Eagles first began charity work, Christmas baskets were practically the only medium of distribution. The lodge at that time took the responsibility of seeing that everyone had plenty to eat on Christmas day.

In 1918 and 1919 the lodge members saw the need of distributing clothing and shoes to children of needy families, and the charity program was consequently widened. With money available for charity work constantly increasing, a program embracing clothes, food, heat, water and sometimes even rent is now being carried out.

Records show that less than one per cent of money taken in at these indoor fairs and through other channels for charity work is distributed to Eagle members, Abel says. Another fund within the lodge is provided for the welfare of the membership.

Assisting Abel in plans for the fair, which opens tonight and closes Saturday night, are V. V. Bush and

OPEN HIGH SCHOOL LECTURE COURSE

SCENE FROM "THE COTTER'S SATURDAY NIGHT"

George J. Lehner. A committee of 50 Eagles will assist in shaping the hall for the fair and operating the various booths.

THE opening number on the Harding High school entertainment course, "The Cotter's Saturday Night," will be given Monday at 8:15 p. m. in the Central Junior High school auditorium.

Tickets for the course have been on sale for the last two weeks. Six numbers will be offered this year, with Carl Sandburg, famous American poet, closing the program on Feb. 23.

"The Cotter's Saturday Night" is a play written by John E. Daniels of Boston, based upon Robert Burns' immortal poem. The poem and play are set in the eighteenth century, in a cottage of John Anderson, the cotter. Scotch melodies are brought into the play as the family and their friends sit before a fire. The Scottish Musical Comedy Co. of Boston will present the play.

Bicycles Carry Colorado Girls on European Tour

By International News Service
DENVER—Three Colorado girls who toured Europe on bicycles equipped with three speeds and hand brakes, are back home, with many interesting memories of old-world experiences.

The three girls who pedaled their way through Europe are Jeanne Stauffer, Denver teacher; her sister Ruth, a sophomore at the University of Colorado, and Ayliffe Jones, a school teacher at Hayden, Colo.

Many discoveries contrary to established opinions were picked up by the three girls during their rambles. For instance, they all agree that:

Frenchmen aren't so gallant as Germans.

Native of both countries displayed no ill-feeling toward the United States, nor did they try to "soak" the girls with advanced prices because they were tourists.

Holland is just as it appears in children's picture books—bright colors shining cleanliness and the inhabitants dressed in picturesque costumes and wooden shoes.

English children aren't afraid of policemen. No parent could frighten a child by saying: "If you aren't good a 'Bobbie' will get you." The English "Bobbie" is looked upon as a friend more than as an officer of the law. Criminals have great fear of them, however.

The "bike tourists" found good roads in the countries they visited.

"I believe English, French and German roads are the best in the world," said Jeanne Stauffer. "Most of them are paved and the roads in Germany are very wide. There are many signs, so we had no trouble finding our way. Our total cycling distance was 1,300 miles.

The girls left the United States on June 19. Their journey took them through England, France, Germany, Holland and Switzerland.

The idea of three unescorted girls going on a trip through foreign countries horrified some people the

The Stars Say---

For Thursday, Oct. 30

THE planetary forecast for this day is for a rather routine state of affairs, with things running smoothly in the accustomed grooves, but possibly encountering some trivial delays or anxieties. It may be well to postpone important events. In the realm of the domestic, affectional or social a letter may bring welcome or a conversation bring happiness.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year in which the general trend of events depends upon their individual efforts. The astral influences are negative, a single lunar aspect pointing to small anxieties and trivial delays. A letter or conversation in the domain of social, domestic or affectional relations may prove pleasant. A child born on this day may be artistic, literary, poetic, and may gain friends and position through its amiable and gracious ways.

ASKS NEW RATE

C. D. & M. Files Application To Lower Electric Cost in Essex

Residents of Essex and surrounding territory will be granted a decidedly lower electric rate in the near future, if plans of officials of the C. D. & M. Electric Co. bear fruit.

The company has an application before the state utilities commission to supersede the present rates at Essex with the present rural rates of the company. The same rates would apply to all former customers of the Essex Electric Co., which was recently purchased by the C. D. & M. Electric Co.

The rate schedule includes a lighting charge of 10 cents for the first 50 kilowatt hours per month, eight cents for the next and seven cents for excess. The minimum charge a month would be 75 cents. For power service the company proposes to charge $1 a month plus six cents for the first 200 kilowatt hours, five cents for the next 300 and four cents for the following 500. Excess charge would be three cents.

KELLEY NOTIFIED HE'S OUT OF JOB

Two Filed Oil Charges Against Interior Department Discharged.

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Secretary of the Interior today dismissed from his position Ralph S. Kelley, former field agent, who had been charged with mismanagement of the department with mismanagement of oil shale lands.

After a letter addressed to Secretary Wilbur said, "I am sorry to hear that your resignation from the interior department may be considered terminated as of Sept. 29."

Letter of Sept. 29 Secretary Kelley declined to accept Kelley's resignation, which the field agent had made at the time he made his resignation public, but suspended him pending an investigation. Investigation by the justice department resulted in a report that Kelley's charges were unfounded. Kelley termed the findings a "whitewash."

President Hoover, yesterday directed the former Denver office charges as "fabrications" and a "whitewash" to his administration. Secretary Wilbur also criticized Kelley's resignation. Work, whose administration of the Colorado oil shale lands came in for attack by Kelley at "no time was I urged to take in favor of any individual or corporate organization by any member of congress from Colorado elsewhere."

Marion ships ahead and naturally doesn't lose submarines. We may wish to believe that we had kept those submarines. It wouldn't have cost much, if anything, to keep them, and we may soon be rebuilding them.

WHEN YOU CATCH a whale you often find some parasite attached to it. Savage sharks have smaller, more savage beasts fastened to their bodies. American business, in times constantly widening, seems threatened with ravenous parasites, more deadly than any found in the ocean.

The little miniature golf business man might have hoped to escape the racketeers' attention. Joseph Furman, now dead, learned the contrary.

Deleaves say he refused to pay blackmail demanded by miniature golf racketeers. They took him for a ride in his own automobile, shot him dead and threw him out. They did not bother to take his "two large diamonds and plentiful supply of money." His corpse was intended as a warning to others.

THE BRITISH government wants to diminish or eliminate the performance of a perfumery flummery now, at the tomb of the unknown soldier and invites all other nations to do the same. Britain thinks the ceremonies keep alive the war spirit and inflict hardship on visiting statesmen, now expected to buy a wreath and hurry to the tomb on arrival.

The ceremonies, that have no meaning, might be omitted out of consideration for the unknown dead man. Whoever he may be, he is entitled to rest now that the war has been over so long.

And the public is tired of non-entities from abroad hurrying to the tomb, to use the tomb as an advertisement for themselves.

BANDITS POSE AS CLERKS, ROB STORE

Take Cleveland Jeweler to Back Room While They Serve Customers.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 23.—Two bandits held up the Ben Siegel jewelry store today, bound and gagged Siegel and escaped with gems he valued at $10,000.

After binding Siegel they took him to a back room of the store and waited on customers in front while they selected the plunder they desired. After the bandits had left Siegel worked loose his gag and called for help.

Siegel told police he had just opened the store when a young man entered and asked to see some watches. The young man, dissatisfied with the watches in the showcase asked for a more varied assortment.

As soon as Siegel opened the safe where a more expensive supply was stored, a second man entered. Both men drew revolvers.

New Brazilian Government Move to Assure Life of Incoming President

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 23.—Extreme precautions were taken today to safeguard the life of Dr. Getulio Vargas, proceeding to Ciudad Sao Paulo and Rio de Janeiro to assume control of the Brazilian government.

Despite the victory of the revolution, and the popularity of the man, it was felt by revolutionary leaders that there still are elements which question his designation by the military Junta which deposed President Washington Luis as the logical figure for the presidency.

Reports were that he will arrive here today, but there has been no word here of definite departure from Itarare.

Fordham Coach Would Play Irish in Post-Season Conflict.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Major Frank W. Cavanaugh, coach of the Fordham football eleven, said today he would like to see Fordham and Notre Dame meet in a post-season game. Fordham has not been scored on this season.

"Rockne must have a pretty good team but before you can convince me that the Irish are the best in the country, I'll have to see them beat Fordham," said the Fordham coach.

FINDS NEW SOURCE OF WHITE NEWSPRINT

Georgia Chemist Reveals Prospect of Making Paper from Slash Pine.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 23.—A chemist Aladdin laid before an Atlanta Chamber of Commerce luncheon today while newspaper paper made from a new source—slash pine.

He said it opens the prospect of a new and wholly American supply of newsprint and high grade book paper made from southern pine trees, probably of all sorts.

The Aladdin was Dr. Charles H. Herty of New York, former president of the American Chemical Society. He made his discovery public without reservations, and proposed that southern business men make use of the knowledge to enrich the south.

Southern pine long has been used to make paper of a yellow variety. Dr. Herty said, but not to compete with the high grade sulfate process newsprint and white book paper made from spruce.

His new paper was made of the one variety of southern pine supposed to be the least capable of producing regular newsprint.

GEORGE DELAUDER CLAIMED AT LA RUE

Retired Wagon Maker, Hotel Owner Passes Away; Funeral Friday.

SPECIAL TO THE STAR
LA RUE, Oct. 23.—George R. Delauder, 81, retired wagon maker and hotel owner, died at his home here early this morning. Infirmitudes and complications caused his death.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 3 p. m. in the home in charge of Rev. J. W. Horne. Burial will be made in LaRue cemetery.

Mr. Delauder was born in Middletown, Md., June 24, 1849, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Delauder. Until 17 years old he lived on a farm and then became a wagon maker. In 1872 he moved to LaRue and established a carriage and wagon shop. He purchased the Delauder hotel and the opera house here in 1891. He had been retired for 20 years.

He is survived by the widow, whom he married Oct. 22, 1901.

BLAME BANK HOLDUP ON NOTORIOUS GANG

Sheriff Believes Lancaster, O., Institution Robbed by Bowman Followers.

By The Associated Press
LANCASTER, O., Oct. 23.—Sheriff Gale Seiser said today he believed the so-called Bowman gang responsible for the robbery of the Fairfield National bank here yesterday when six men escaped with $10,000, after snatching two bank officials and a customer.

Henry Peters, president of the bank, viewed a photograph of Neil Bowman, one of the brothers believed to head the gang, and said it clearly resembled the man who struck him during the robbery, the sheriff said.

A widespread manhunt had brought no clue to the bandits today. A farmer living five miles north of Baltimore said a big blue sedan crowded his car from the road and turned into the Black Lick road leading toward Newark. The license number, he said, had the same prefix letter and first two figures as that of the bandit car.

ARRESTED IN ANTIQUE FRAUD

The arrest in Boston of Mrs. Clementine Briggs Doran, unique dealer of Holyoke, Mass., was believed to have revealed a $500,000 swindle in spurious antique chinaware. She was charged with conspiracy in the defrauding of a Boston collector of antiques of $51,220 through false Lowestoft china. She is shown in court with her attorney, Frank Hurley.

CLARIDON RESIDENT FOUND DEAD IN BED

Mrs. Sarah McPeck, 70, Dies Following Stroke of Apoplexy.

CLARIDON, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Sarah McPeck, 70, who has been living with Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Auld here for the last several months, was found dead in bed this morning. Death was due to apoplexy and occurred at about 4 a. m.

Surviving are a son, H. B. McPeck of 750 Henry street in Marion; three grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Nancy Andrews of Decatur, Ill.

Short services will be held at the home of the son in Marion Friday at 1 p. m. and at the Caledonia Memorial M. E. church at 2 p. m. Rev. W. C. Michel will have charge and burial will be made in the Caledonia cemetery.

She was born at Kirkpatrick Nov. 27, 1859. She was a member of the Caledonia M. E. church since childhood.

CLASS HAS PARTY

Builders Group of First U. B. Church Enjoy Social.

The Builders class of the First United Brethren church held a Halloween party last night in the community house. A feature of the party was the presentation of a Thompson Corners program in which Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hufford, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Carrier, Mr. and Mrs. John Butts, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wenninger, Lucille Butts and Velma Carrier took part.

Ruth Carrier, Virginia Butts, Lucille and Eugene Wenninger, dressed as ghosts welcomed the guests who were forced to enter the room through a window. Arlene Wenninger presided at the fortune telling den. A blackface quartet, E. K. Hill, Roy Dellinger, W. M. Curran and Mrs. Harold Prettyman, contributed several songs. Halloween refreshments were served.

The class will serve a venison supper late in November. The deer will be supplied by M. L. McDaniel who is going on a hunting trip to Maine.

Hosts for the meeting Nov. 23 will be Mr. and Mrs. Hufford, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Feld, Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Myers.

CITY TO FILE GAS REQUEST WITH BODY

Solicitor Patton Draws Complaint To Be Placed Before Commission.

The second step in the city's action to force the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. to furnish adequate service here will be taken Thursday when City Solicitor Carter Patton lodges formal complaint against the company with the state utilities commission in Columbus.

The complaint was being drawn today, and will probably be filed with the commission Thursday afternoon, according to Patton.

It is expected that the local gas situation will be outlined in the complaint, together with the admitted shortage of gas here in winter months.

The petition will ask the commission to order the gas company to improve the service here and furnish the city with at least sufficient gas for domestic service.

Action against the company was taken Monday night by city council.

The federal and state agencies, he said, the employers of Cleveland and Youngstown send assurances that they would keep all men on the payrolls throughout the winter but not necessarily for full time employment.

Croston and other members of the conference will meet later for a conference with Governor Cooper's committee for the stabilization of employment.

While these meetings are in session, various community projects to provide employment in Ohio cities are getting under way.

APPEALS TO WOMEN

Chief of Federal Division Urges Repairs on Homes to Provide Jobs.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—An appeal to the women of the country to aid the President's emergency committee on employment in its work to aid the jobless was made today by Dr. Lillian Gilbreth of Mountclair, N. J., upon taking charge of the women's division.

Dr. Gilbreth urged the women to help by having repairs made to their homes and by working through their various groups to assist the destitute.

Colonel Arthur Woods, chairman of the committee, and the National and Columbia broadcasting systems had offered their services to the committee as well as the motion picture industry through Will H. Hays.

Concrete examples of local efforts to aid the unemployed will be related over the radio. Colonel Woods said, in the hope that municipalities yet to adopt programs will follow the example of those which have relief plans in full swing.

Woods, who returned last night from New York, had on his desk today four large folders containing plans and suggestions from all over the country looking toward the alleviation of unemployment.

Meanwhile the tightening of immigration restriction against job-seekers from abroad was reported showing results. Already September admittance figures showed the entry list cut from the 28,020 of a year ago to 17,792 for last month, but this, Immigration Commissioner Hull said, was only a start, as many visas granted before the stringent rules were made effective may be employed to secure entrance for another three months.

Joseph L. Shaffstall Claimed by Death Here

Joseph L. Shaffstall, 80, of 147 North Main street died today at 1:30 p. m. of infirmities of age. He had been ill for five weeks. He was born March 27, 1850, in Crawford county, the son of Joseph Shaffstall and Elizabeth Schwartz Shaffstall. He was married March 18, 1880, in Upper Sandusky to Cordelia Fryer who survives.

Besides his wife he is survived by four daughters and three sons. Three sisters and one brother also survive.

Funeral arrangements, which have not been completed, will be in charge of Rev. C. E. Groves. Interment will be made in the Nevada cemetery.

Turning New Pages

WITH EDNA S. DUTTON

THE woes, joys and problems of a village parson and his flock are pictured by Sheila Kaye-Smith in her novel "Shepherds in Sackcloth." The story is not lacking in interest although much of it has to do with tragedies of life and the reader gets a certain amount of satisfaction in seeing the young vagabond shepherd work out his own salvation with a great deal of encouragement from Mr. Bennett the rector. The setting is an English village and the characters are drawn from various walks of life.

One likes Miss Smith's description of the wealthy lady of the village who liked to be beautiful. She liked to give her maid new dress-lengths at Christmas, she liked to send soup and jelly to sick folk, muffers and flannel petticoats to old ones, she liked to give sides of bacon to large families and buns to the children. But she did not like to give wages which would have enabled everybody to buy dress-lengths, soup, jelly, muffers, flannel petticoats, bacon and buns for themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett are a very happily married couple and it is easily seen how much of a help the latter is to the rector in their daily life. One wishes at times the rector would say aloud the things he says in his mind instead of saying the things he knows he should say. Theresa, Mrs. Millington's niece, whom the latter adores, falls in love with a preacher at the chapel after following a couple of gypsy girls to services on Sunday morning when she should be attending her own church. She learns that his parents are tenants on her aunt's estate and visits his home in company with Mrs. Bennett who is distributing the parish magazine. The visit of the church bishop and the parish garden party are events of great moment in the church and village life and at the latter both Mr. and Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Millington are greatly disturbed over the interest Theresa and George Hecman show in each other.

George leaves his native village and follows his desire to enter the

Cohen Writes Detective Yarn

A SOUTHERN city is chosen by Octavia Roy Cohen, for his novel "The Back Stage Mystery" which, it is easy to guess, has to do with theatrical folk. Wylie Thornton is killed in his dressingroom the very night he is planning to leave for New York with the beautiful daughter of Major Manning the city's richest citizen, and the entire town is shocked when the news first became known through an "extra" Record, one of the three newspapers read by the citizenry. The mystery seems to be on the point of solution several times but the author carries the story on by keeping the detective and Terry Mooney busy on new clues. Terry, a "club" reporter, is half the love interest of the plot, the other half being furnished by the intrigue of the stock company.

Discusses Manners of Victorian Days

VICTORIANISM, long laughed at by the free and easy moderns now is being looked upon with greater retrospective understanding. The difference between the manners of Victorian days and those of the present is seen by E. F. Benson in a cultured Englishman as largely a matter of taste. Benson's father, Edward, White Benson was the good queen's Archbishop of Canterbury, and the son's book "As We Were" is a charming volume of anecdotal reminiscences described as "A Victorian Peep Show." It pictures the society which Esme Wingfield-Stratford, another Englishman but a historian explains in "Those Earliest Victorians," also a new book. "As We Were" opens with the author searching for a childhood relic, a peerless symbol of the period, an ornate crimson velvet pin-cushion, built like a blanc mange and lost in attic dust. From that symbol of domestic adornment he goes easily into the life of the people as he observes it.

Wingfield-Stratford's book gives the Victorian credit for their material achievements and explains the all-pervading cult of the home.

Four New Books in Holt List

FOUR books of non-fiction for publication Nov. 7 by Henry Holt & Co. include "Collected Poems of Robert Frost," "New Verse" by Paul Marand, "The Indians" by Arthur Edwin Kroes and "Pier Buis" by Victor Hugo translated by Brian Hooker. Clayton Hamilton has written an introduction for the last named book in which he estimated Victor Hugo's place as a dramatist.

"Little America" To Be Published Soon

LITTLE AMERICA, Bear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd's book describing his South Pole expedition will be published Nov. 25 by P. Putnam's Sons. The regular edition will contain 47 illustrations, composed of extraordinary photographs and maps covering the territory explored. The first regular edition will contain in addition to the photographs a photographic front piece. A limited numbered edition of 1,000 bearing Byrd's autograph will be printed from type on all the paper and will contain additional photographs not included in any other editions.

"Lady of Daylight" by G. M. Attenborough

"LADY OF DAYLIGHT" is the title of G. M. Attenborough's novel of rural life in peace time. There are added war episodes and glimpses of Oxford in full term. The story gives something of the lives of the heroine's young son and the rector's little daughter and is illuminated with a background of French history and literature. The author, Mrs. Percy Linaet, is a young English journalist. She also wrote "The Rich Young Man."

Tells How London Streets Are Named

"The Tale of Tom Tiddler" by Eleanor Farson relates the adventures of a London fairy-boy that gives delightful explanations of how many of the familiar and amusing names of London streets and byways came about. The story will appeal to children of seven or eight years and also will be enjoyed by grown-ups.

Canary Village Is Bird Story

A bird story for children is Grace B. Cawthorne's "Canary Village." The bird shop of Hans Pich is not like other bird shops. Doesn't Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, in accepting that prize of $5,000, run the risk of being charged with having commercialized her great love of world peace?

Scientists are showing an inclination to blame inner disturbances of the body responsible for the decaying of teeth. Can it be that these radio tooth paste lectures have been deceiving us?

A Bucharest dispatch says that 50,000 troops cheered lustily as King Carol was made a marshal of Roumania at the autumn maneuvers of the army over there. The enthusiasm of the Roumanian troops must work on a hair trigger.

Senator Charles E. Thomas, of Colorado, is quoted as offering to wager his hat that he could take a drink with every member of the senate, with the possible exception of six, if he approached them "confidentially." If his hat is worth anything, he had better be careful. It would be just like some of the drinking dry senators to throw him down for "talking."

Five hundred collegians, not taking to the plan of operation of the University of Seville, Spain, smashed the windows of the university buildings, destroyed the furniture and burned all the text books found in the class rooms. The question may be asked over in Spain as well as here: "Does education pay?"

Automobile deaths in the country in 1929 numbered 30,858, thus maintaining the average yearly increase of approximately 3,000. There's not the slightest reason, it must be apparent to all, for fear of the overpopulation of the country. The automobile is proving as effective as a war.

Two hundred and twenty cities of the country have already raised $55,000,000 to assist the jobless and the needy over the winter and the total grows daily. Possibly with agencies organized early as they have been for rendering aid, there may not be the suffering the coming winter which has been feared. Let it be hoped that there will not be.

Time Will Tell.

In response to the invitation of the military junta in control of the federal government there, Getulio Vargas, generalissimo of the Brazilian revolutionary army, was reported in Associated Press dispatches of Monday to be on his way to Rio Janeiro to assume the provisional presidency of Brazil.

It will be recalled that General Vargas was the presidential candidate of the Brazilian Liberals in the election of early last year against Dr. Julio Prestes, the candidate favored by the Luis administration, who was declared by the government to have been the victor in the campaign.

Some days since it was hinted in these columns that, while revolution unquestionably was encouraged by the policy of the Luis government and undoubtedly hastened by the economic conditions in Brazil resulting in part from the internal and foreign debt and in part from the demoralization of the coffee market, there was a possibility that the chief factor might have been thirst for power.

This view is in a measure verified by the fact that the revolutionary junta have called to the provisional presidency the man who was in supreme command of the forces which waged the revolution to prevent the seating of the man declared to have defeated him. It is not unfair to assume that General Vargas has a pretty fair idea regarding the identity of the man who would be asked, in the event of the success of the revolution, to assume the provisional presidency.

It may be that all the charges of the revolutionists against the Luis government were well founded. Time will tell. The military junta, in its proclamation, held out that the Brazilian nation was tired of the savagery of its latest government, tired of the application in a time of reason of brutal force, crushing opposition by armed despotism and by steel and bullets. It held out that lack of comprehension of problems of government by the latest government's directors, signified that the nation needed a radical substitution in administration and that, as it was necessary to act by force, the nation's permanent armed forces acted to convey the will of the people.

If changes in the administration of government such as are held out in the junta's proclamation are made and good and fair government is given the people of Brazil, then and in that event it is fair to assume that the revolution was inspired by patriotism for the good of the country, but it changes for the better do not come, if the new government goes to the same or similar excesses as those charged against the Luis government, then there will be justification for the suspicion that an election lost at the polls was won by "steel and bullets," as so often is the case in Latin-American republics.

As we have said, time will tell.

The Kelly Dudd.

If there had been anything lacking to show up the Kelly oil shale land charges, to which we referred in these columns yesterday as exploded and discredited political ammunition, it was supplied by President Hoover's forceful denunciation of the matter as an attempt to fasten the odium of an oil scandal upon his administration. The President didn't hesitate in the least about speaking plainly in charging that the very handling of the story made evident the political purpose behind it. He recited that Kelly had arranged last July for its sale to a newspaper unfriendly to the administration and that its publication had been withheld in the expectation that it would prove more effective as political ammunition if uttered during the thick of the campaign.

What probably wasn't expected was that Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, immediately on the publication of the story, would demand an investigation, as he did, and that the department of justice would institute an investigation and proceed with such expedition to develop the facts in connection with the case as to make manifest so speedily as it did not only the utter falsity of the charges, but the animus behind them and the political purpose of their publication as well.

Ralph S. Kelley, it may be well to repeat at this time, was the former department of the interior chief of field division in Denver and that in his story he sought to give the public the impression that oil shale lands worth billions of dollars had been or were about to be lost to the government through corruption, irregularity and wrongdoing on the part of the department. In his story he used such expressions as "oil shale lands worth $40,000,000,000" and "surrender of billions of dollars of oil lands." His story said, he tendered his resignation, which Secretary Wilbur refused to accept, at the same time suspending him.

The investigation developed the fact that oil shale has no substantial present commercial value; that the cost of mining the shale and extracting oil therefrom greatly exceeds the value of the product, and that, while the geological survey's estimate of oil shale land in Wyoming, Utah and Colorado, the states in which the largest deposits are found, is 8,275,791, only 175,724 acres of such land had been patented during the present and all preceding administrations. It also developed that but 42,840 acres had been patented during the present administration; that the patents for 23,057 acres of the 42,840 acres sold under the present administration had been approved by Kelley himself; that patents to 15,778 acres had been issued under the order of the supreme court of the United States; that, all told, patents were issued to but 7,278 acres without Kelley's approval, and that these oil shale lands, instead of being of enormous value, were worth but a few dollars an acre.

The entire course of Kelley—the fact that he was a disgruntled employee and antagonistic to his immediate superior, his failure to make any complaint to public officials; his refusal to appear and testify during the course of the investigation conducted by Assistant Attorney General Seth W. Richardson—all show the spirit of the man making the charges, the reason for the purchase of the story and the purpose of its publication.

Such in short form is the story of the Kelley dud.

Premier Mussolini is rattling the saber again, but it should not be taken too seriously. Benito has to talk loud occasionally to keep Fascist enthusiasm up to the desired mark.

Three officials of the Detroit police department have been expelled from the force as the result of the recommendation of the Wayne county grand jury. In time it may dawn upon the decent, law-abiding people of Detroit why crime has flourished up there as it has.

As the result of admissions of eight joint operators that they had been paying "protection" money for five years, a Niles lieutenant of police and six patrolmen have been suspended. In the light of the many disclosures of corruption in police departments it isn't hard to understand why prohibition has failed to prohibit.

The experience of the motorist, who escaped injury when his car plunged over an embankment along a road leading out of New Philadelphia and landed on the dry bed of the Ohio canal sixty feet below, should not lend encouragement to reckless driving. An escape like that does not occur one time in a million.

If the published assertion of Charles H. Sabin, commander of the Crusaders, that revocation of automobile drivers' licenses is more than twice as frequent today as before prohibition, is intended to support the contention that there is more drunkenness now than then, it will hardly pass muster. Overlooking the fact that there is far more traffic law enforcement now than there was ten years ago, the number of licenses revoked has not kept pace with the number of cars being operated.

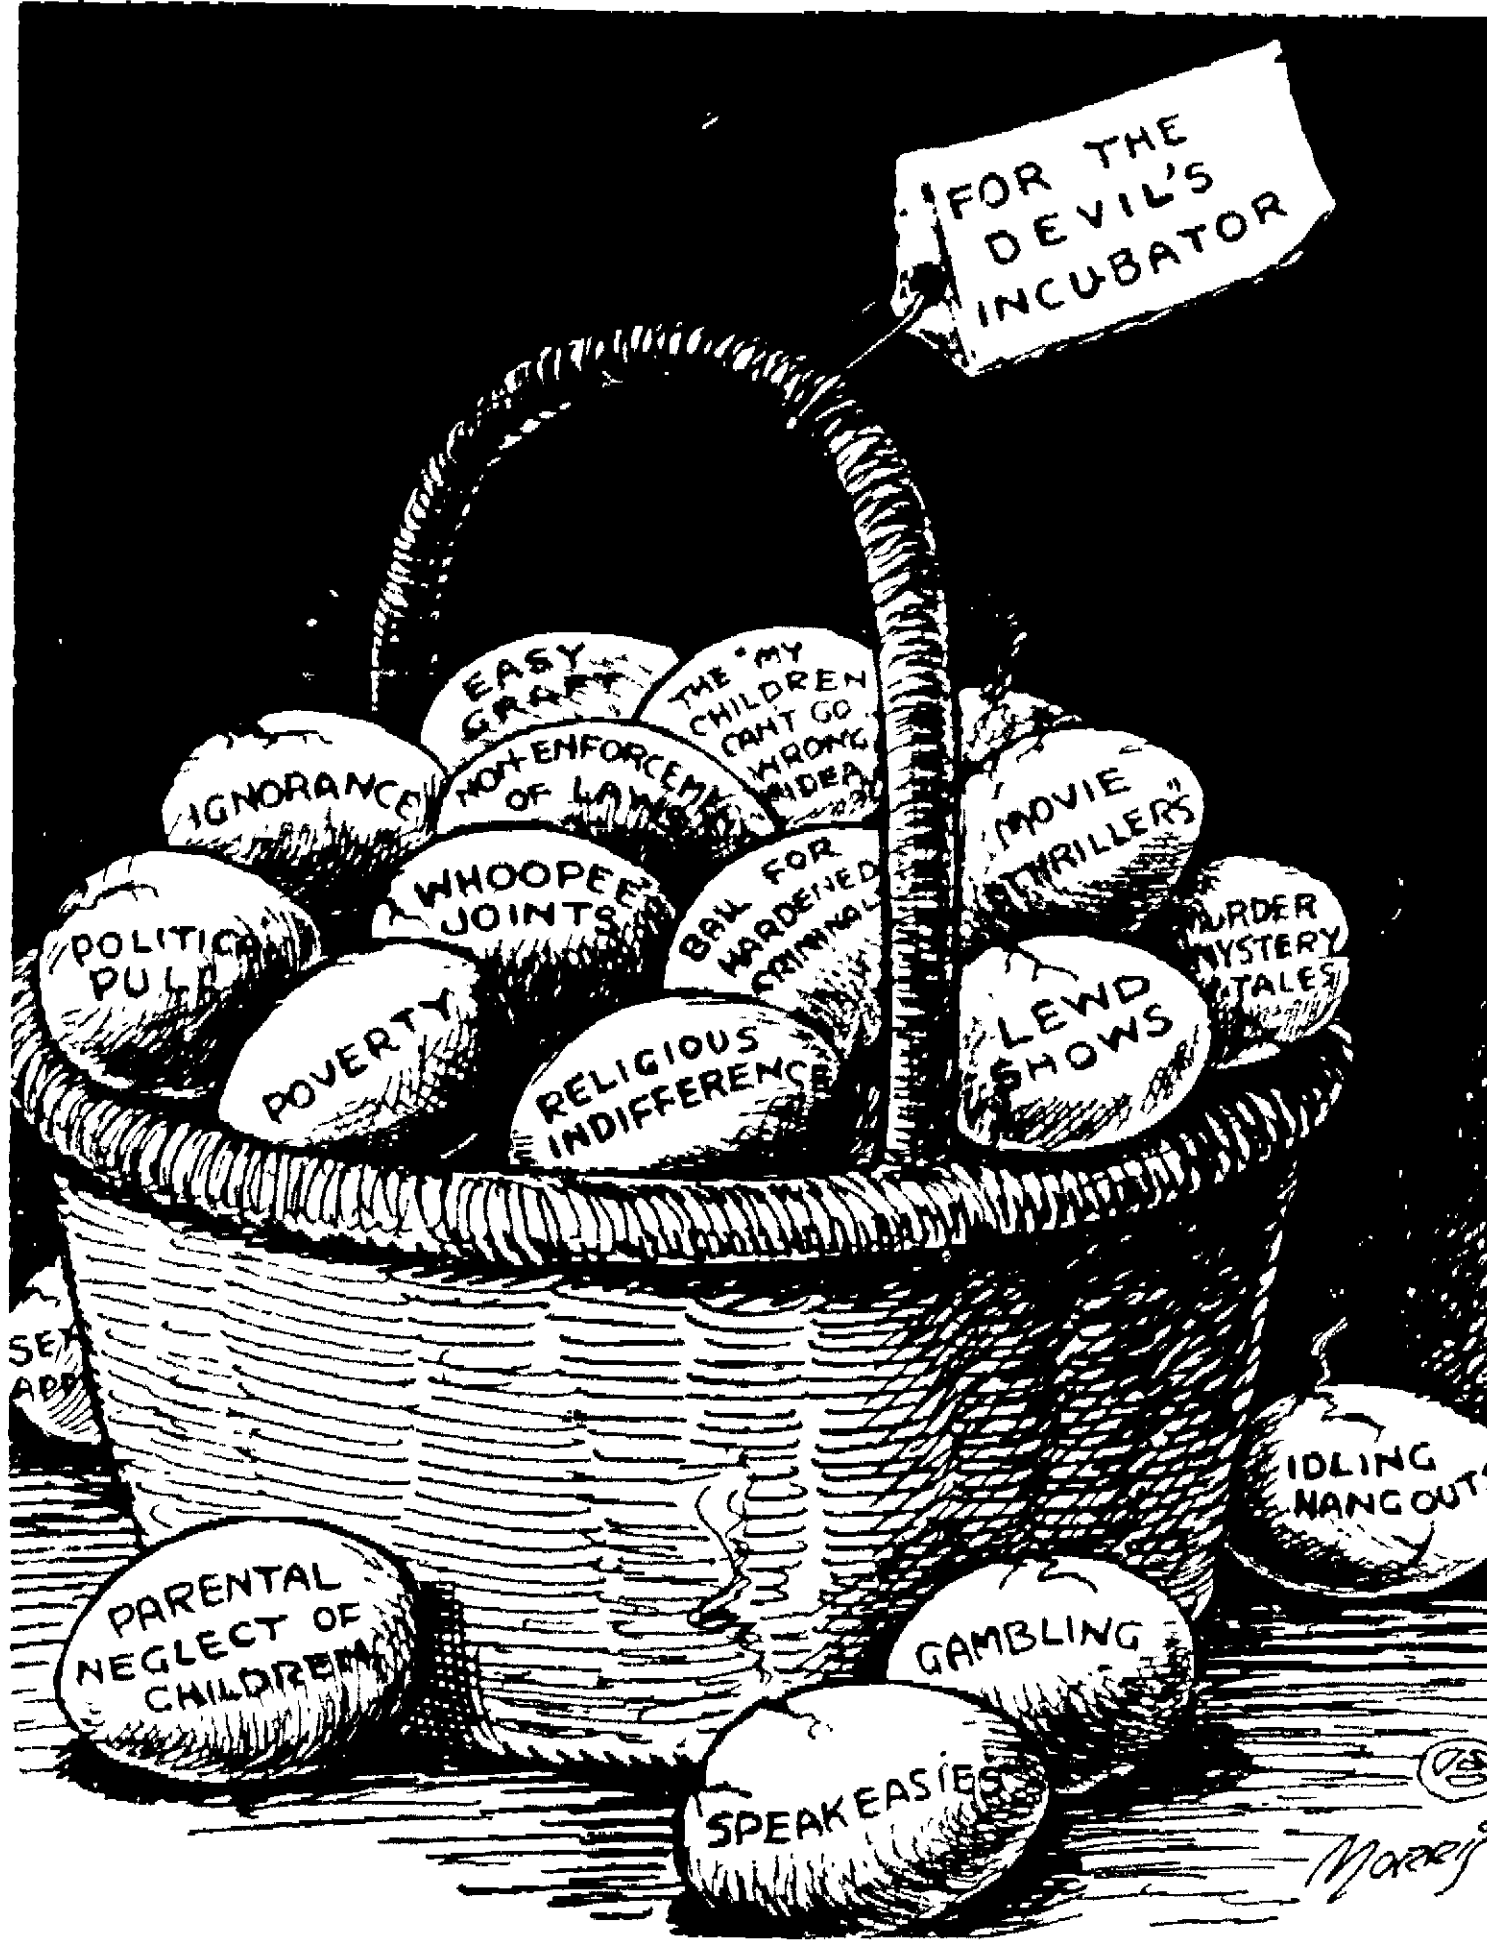

The woman cashier of a New York City corporation, who is short from $70,000 to $90,000 in her accounts, is said to hold expensive tastes responsible for her trouble. It seems possible. Expensive tastes have proved responsible for the big end of the financial trouble from which the country long has suffered and is suffering today.

So great has been the increase in auto traffic in Ceylon that owners of elephants must light them front and rear, as it is very liable to give an automobile a severe jolt if it has a collision with a two-ton elephant. Evidently what such a collision will do to the elephant isn't considered. Apparently elephants are classed in Ceylon much the same as are we true aristocrats of the land here in America. The bulk of the law is directed to the protection of the drivers.

A citizen of Minneapolis, recognizing in a hotel lobby a young man who had held him up for $112, demanded the return of his money. As the youth had spent his loot, a compromise was effected. The business man agreed to secure the hold-up man a job and the latter agreed to pay back the amount stolen at the rate of a cent a day payable monthly.

The pay was work or passion, but it is a question regarding just what the effect of it may be.

GUARANTEED TO HATCH.

Sam Galloway and the Public Schools.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

Credit for making public education in Ohio a really efficient work has been variously bestowed by different writers on the history of our public schools, but Dr. Washington Gladden gave a large measure of the credit to Samuel Galloway, of Columbus.

Galloway first contemplated entering the ministry, but rather late in life changed his mind and turned to the study of law. But he did not make a decided success of that. The two things that challenged him to his best efforts were religion and education.

He also took a keen interest in politics largely because the slavery question was a principal issue of the day and he was an abolitionist. In this work he attracted the attention of Mr. Lincoln and when the latter passed through Columbus on his way to Washington to be inaugurated in 1861, Mr. Galloway was one of the men with whom he conferred regarding public matters.

A few weeks after the inauguration Galloway went to Washington at the president's invitation, and it is said that he offered his Ohio friend his choice of positions in his administration, but he declined them all and held as a matter of fact only judge advocate at Camp Chase.

But his work in behalf of the public schools in this state had been done before that. He was elected secretary of state of Ohio just as the incumbent of that office was an abolitionist. In this work he attracted the attention of Mr. Lincoln and when the latter passed through Columbus on his way to Washington to be inaugurated in 1861, Mr. Galloway was one of the men with whom he conferred regarding public matters.

RESORT O' DREAMS.

The motorship, Stella Polaris, on December 23 will weigh anchor for the world's first pleasure voyage to the lands of the South pole. The day of the venturesome explorer loses glamor. It is now "All aboard, South!" for anybody who has the means and the nerve.

It would appear that there are plenty of people who possess the latter quality, for 198 people have booked passage on the pole-bound ship which will leave New York on December 23. They will visit the regions first penetrated by Shackleton, Amundsen, Scott and most recently by Rear Admiral Byrd. The cruise will be made by way of the Panama canal, Tahiti, and Auckland, New Zealand. The return will be by way of Australia, the East Indies, India, the Suez canal and Marseilles, including a number of Mediterranean ports. The European members of the ship's company of passengers will be taken on at Southampton, thence on to New York and the unfolding of adventurous dreams—experience of the "thrill" so ardently sought by many people in this rushing age.

And there should be a lot of thrills encountered on the voyage and along the extending ice barriers.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

From Our Readers.

DOESN'T FAVOR LEVIES.

Editor Star—I have a few reasons that I would like to present through your valuable paper, why I think the levies asked for by the county for road purposes, the board of education and the city for operating expenses should be defeated.

The first and to my mind the principal reason is that they are being asked for a period of five years when no one knows what form of taxing laws will be handed out to the people of the state, by the next legislature under the amendment passed last fall. If it had been made a period of one year at this time so that we could consider the matter under the new law it would be fair and just.

The second reason, and almost as important, is that in any event real estate will be taxed at the limit of fifteen mills a basis for taxing the necessary taxes, because that is "fixable property" and can not escape, having the balance needed to be raised from property more or less intangible. We are told the amendment passed last fall was designed to bring out this intangible property and if we had our real estate with twenty mills, which is what it would mean if all the extra levies carried, it tends to defeat the purpose of the amendment, for the person that has to pay a tax of twenty mills on his real estate, and has intangible property also, would most likely place his intangible property where it would escape taxation, as he has done in the past.

The county treasurer reports $200,000 of delinquent taxes on his books, of which $140,000 in round numbers, is due from real estate. That being true it would seem that real estate is now being burdened beyond its capacity to pay.

In conclusion, let me say that the taxing divisions may just as well begin to pare the fat off the county, for if real estate is compressed next year, it will be a case of double taxation of real estate.

The extra burden should not be asked when the tax on property, either for real or personal, is at the law made in which we now find it.

Penalty of Diet Errors.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

How many persons there are who are afflicted with some form of digestive disorder? Their number is legion. Acute or chronic gastritis is a very disagreeable condition. It points to some gross errors of diet, to ingested bacterial or mineral poison, or to the toxin of some infectious disease.

Acute gastritis begins suddenly and unexpectedly with fullness and discomfort in the stomach. It is really an acute inflammation of the mucous membrane lining of the stomach. Thick mucus covers the membrane and interferes with the normal action of the digestive juices. The material makes an ideal breeding place for the germs of fermentation.

The walls of the stomach will absorb poisons as quickly as they will nourishing food. Fermentation follows, and with this condition there is a great accumulation of gas which causes pain and swelling.

The patient is troubled with headache and fever, thirst and chilliness. There may be nausea and vomiting or attempts to vomit. Very often a sour or bitter fluid is ejected. There are palpitation of the heart, cold sweats and prostration. There may be a jaundiced condition, and in this case, the vomited material is a mixture of blood, mucus and bile. The tongue is coated and there are fever sores on the lips. The skin is apt to itch intolerably.

Depending upon the physical condition of the patient, and the severity of the attack, the symptoms may last for a day and a night. In other cases they continue for several days.

Gastritis should not be neglected, for it may become chronic. Every case of chronic gastritis is difficult to overcome.

The causes of this disease are many. First of all, it may come from a general impoverished condition, due to unsuitable food. It may result from eating stale or bad food. It may be due to impairment of the digestive apparatus from other causes, such as overeating and over-indulgence in alcoholic liquors. On the other hand, it may be secondary to a disease of the heart, lungs or kidneys, or to fevers.

If the source of the trouble is wrong diet, or some bacterial or mineral poisoning of the system, there should be a thorough washing of the stomach. A large quantity of water should be used with a little bicarbonate of soda. This will remove food remnants and mucus and if the attack is mild, recovery should be quick.

When the stomach has been thoroughly emptied, the colon should receive irrigation. It is well to take a dose of castor oil or some saline solution for further cleaning out of the bowels.

During the attack even the drinking-water should be restricted. The thirst may be appeased by taking cracked ice or small amounts of hot water. The patient should be kept warm in bed.

Feeding may be resumed after a day or two and a soft, bland, non-irritating diet be given for a week or ten days. Milk, milk toast, dry toast, soft-boiled or poached eggs, cereals with cream, broths, fruit juices, baked apple, rice or tapioca pudding, cup custard and tender meat may be given. All coarser foods should be omitted in the diet for a few weeks.

The stomach recovers quickly when given a rest, so that it is best not to take food for twenty-four to forty-eight hours. If no food is given, with such a period of rest, and the original cause of the attack removed, the stomach condition disappears quickly.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

L. H. T. Q.—What can be done for blackheads?

A.—Would a leaking valve and heart murmur be one and the same thing? Is this serious?

A.—Correct the diet and keep the system clear.

2.—Yes. This condition is not necessarily serious, but any heart condition should have proper medical attention and advice. Rest and avoidance of excitement or strain are advisable under any circumstances.

A. F. C. Q.—The skin on my face and body is very dry. What shall I use?

A.—Use an oily solution and drink plenty of water.

L. M. Q.—What will relieve constipation?

A.—A simple, well-cooked food. Avoid foods unduly rich in fats.—Copyright, 1930, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

The Gulf Stream.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

One of the most important features of the earth's surface is the Gulf Stream, a great river of water flowing from the Gulf of Mexico to the North Atlantic. It is a mighty force, and its influence is felt in the climate of the entire world. It is a mighty force, and its influence is felt in the climate of the entire world.

This mighty force, which flows from the Gulf of Mexico to the North Atlantic, is a great river of water. It is a mighty force, and its influence is felt in the climate of the entire world. It is a mighty force, and its influence is felt in the climate of the entire world.

From the south Atlantic coast a great flood of warm water sweeps northward to the Gulf of Mexico. It is a mighty force, and its influence is felt in the climate of the entire world. It is a mighty force, and its influence is felt in the climate of the entire world.

The Gulf stream has a peculiar cross-section. The top of it is a slightly rounded roof. If a ship drifting along the Gulf stream lowers a boat, the latter drifts either to east or west, depending upon which side of the axis of the stream it happens to be on, but the vessel drifts along with the stream in the direction of its course. The shallow roof current from the middle toward either edge carries the boat to one side, but the larger vessel, which rests deep in the stream, is not affected by this superficial transverse flows and drifts with the Gulf stream itself.

On the outer edge of the Gulf stream is not thrown on the North American coast being unable to stem the eastward flow of the roof current.

Every now and then, variations in the course of the Gulf stream are noted. Such a variation was reported not long ago by Sir Arthur Rostrom, master of the Berengaria. Such variations, however, are always comparatively small. The Gulf stream does not always flow in the direction set down on the chart. In the Northern hemisphere the winds drive the water to the right, and the rotation of the globe deviates the water to the right in the Northern Hemisphere. The "cold wall" which separates it from the coast of North America has a pronounced effect upon the course of the Gulf stream. Other influences which affect the Gulf stream are the tides, the hydraulic head in the Gulf of Mexico, and the temperature, salinity and density of the water. Fluctuations or variations in the Gulf stream are due to the combined effect of all meteorological and oceanographical conditions.—Copyright, 1930, International Feature Service, Inc.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. MINTYRE.

New York, Oct. 29—Until 1917, New York had two of the best pent houses. Hitherto, the pent houses were used by scrubmen, perhaps a janitor. The two original pent houses of New York—two responsible for the mad—were Henry L. Doherty and Peter.

Doherty was perched atop an office building on State street with an entrancing view of the harbor. The pent house was a small, one-story structure on top of a ten-story building. It was a small, one-story structure on top of a ten-story building.
